

1. Many candidates belong to the OBC/MOBC category but were rejected due to the delay in submitting the NCL certificate at the time of admission. The committee has decided to extend the submission date for the NCL certificate until August 19, 2024. If the candidate fails to submit the original NCL certificate by August 19, 2024, their admission will be cancelled and they will be converted to the UR category, allowing them to participate in the next round or in the spot round subject to availability of vacancy.

2. Similarly, for EWS candidates, the last date for submitting the certificate is August 19. If they fail to submit it, their admission will be cancelled and they will be converted to the UR category, allowing them to participate in the next round , or in the spot round subject to availability of vacancy.

3. Candidates who have entered incorrect marks during registration will be rejected for this round but will be allowed to participate in spot counselling, subject to vacancy.
